5. Course Text:

The textbook for this course is Colloquial Irish: The Complete Course for Beginners. I am in the process of updating this volume and will share the Second Edition drafts as PDFs with you day by day. You do not have to buy anything for the June 2021 course. The MP3s are available for free on-line. These were created for the First Edition and will not be modified in any way for the Second Edition. [Please be aware that although you will not purchase anything for the June course, you will be expected to purchase the textbook for the July course which was published in 2020.]

8. Course Objectives:

Each student will be expected to:

- 1) Converse (speak with acceptable pronunciation and understandable spoken Irish) in simple but correct Irish, demonstrating mastery of the vocabulary and grammatical concepts included through Unit 14 in the textbook;
- 2) Write in simple but correct Irish, demonstrating mastery of the vocabulary and grammatical concepts included through Unit 14 in the text;
- 3) Read and understand simple Irish texts, as in realia hand-outs and the reading selections included through Unit 14 in the book;
- 4) Demonstrate an understanding of appropriate speech and conduct within Irish-speaking cultures, as well as an understanding of cultural differences and similarities between Ireland and the U.S.

Additionally,

- 1) By learning to understand, speak, read and write in a language other than English, students will improve their communication skills and reading strategies in English,
- 2) By studying the structure of a foreign language, students will enhance their abilities in interpretive, analytic, and adaptive reasoning,
- 3) Because a language always expresses a culture, students studying Irish 111 will improve their understanding of their own society through comparison with the cultural aspects of people in Irish speaking societies.

9. Accommodating Disabilities

Lehman College is committed to providing access to all programs and curricula to all students. Students with disabilities who may need classroom accommodations are encouraged to register with the Office of Student Disability Services. For more information, please contact the Office of Student Disability Services, Disability.Services@Lehman.cuny.edu or call 718-960-8441.

10. Course Requirements

Lehman College: You are permitted two absences during 111 & 112 on-line language courses during the summer sessions without penalty. Asynchronous students are expected to log on at least four days a week during the summer session. Missing one of four days in a week is equal to one absence.

Class Work

Time spent in Blackboard is tracked by the system and reported to the instructor. Based on this information, the instructor assigns the 10% for Blackboard participation.

Additionally, 10% of your final grade is based on your participation in the Discussion Board. Discussion Board contributions should be based on phrases taught in the textbook, which teaches the dialect of the west of Ireland. Google Translate uses the dialect of the south of Ireland. If the instructor detects phrases in the Discussion Board composed with Google Translate, they will be deleted, and points will not awarded for Discussion Board participation.

Homework

Homework will be assigned for each class. You are required to do all homework assignments by the expected due dates.
